The NOA Awards aim to reward organizations for success in outsourcing projects, as well as to raise awareness about best practice in outsourcing. The awards acknowledge achievements in IT outsourcing and business process outsourcing, as well as sector-specific achievements in telecommunications, finance and utilities. The awards have been instituted by the National Outsourcing Association - the only outsourcing trade association in the UK.

"This recognition is a validation of Infosys BPO's continued focus on operational excellence and the sustained efforts to provide business excellence to our customers," said Amitabh Chaudhry, CEO and MD, Infosys BPO.
