

Document Review Services

In today's legal environment, corporate legal departments and law firms are under enormous pressure to reduce costs associated with litigation. The major cost drive factor in litigation can be attributed to the review and analysis of the Electronically Stored Information (ESI) in the E-Discovery process. In the last decade, review costs have spiraled upwards as the amount of data stored electronically has grown exponentially. A paradigm shift is required in streamlining the review process, or else the multibillion-dollar review costs will threaten the financial health of many corporations.

Infosys Approach

Infosys Document Review Services provides a unique combination of effective project management metrics with flexible pricing and delivery models to bring cost efficiencies in the E-Discovery lifecycle. Our integrated approach not only ensures substantial reductions in cost but also promises high quality output by adoption of best practices, established quality models and methodologies. Our strategic alliances with premier E-Discovery platform providers further strengthen our offerings and provide you with a one-stop-shop for your end-to-end E-Discovery requirements.
